

| | |
|--|---|
| Educational component | Elective educational component 7.2 «Countries and regions of the world in the modern geopolitical space» |
| Level HE | First (bachelor) level |
| Name of specialty / educational-professional program | 291 «International Relations, Public Communications and Regional Studies» / «International Relations» |
| Form of study | Full-time |
| Course, semester, duration | 3 year, 6 semester, 5 credits |
| Semester control | Credit |
| Number of hours (total: including lectures / practical) | 150 hours (10 lectures, 20 practical) |
| Language of instruction | English |
| Department that provides teaching | Department of International Relations and Regional Studies |
| Author of the Educational component | PhD (candidate of geographical sciences), associate professor of the Department of International Relations and Regional Studies Kopachinska Galina |
| Brief description | |
| Requirements for the beginning of the study | Based on the subjects «Introduction to the specialty» «International Relations», «Political Geography of Countries and Regions», «History of International Relations» |
| What will be studied | Features of the development of modern countries in the world; establishment and functioning of their political institutions; the course of foreign political reforms and processes in the world; interconnection and interdependence of domestic and foreign policy of the world's countries |
| Why this academic course is interesting / necessary to study | it gives knowledge about the specific features, problems and prospects of the development of modern countries, as well as historical peculiarities of their formation and functioning in geopolitical map of modernity. |
| What can be achieved by study (learning outcomes) | To give an expert assessment of current trends and patterns of development of countries of the world; analyze their geopolitical location; understand the aspects of creating political coalitions and specifics of their functioning; identify issues of political leadership inside and outside the country; evaluate the success of reforms in various spheres of public life; characterize the participation and influence of civil society on socio-political processes in the world; as well as the state of political culture of a particular state. |
| How acquired knowledge and skills can be used (competencies) | To understand the peculiarities of domestic political crises in the world - political, institutional, economic, social, etc .; to analyze the features of domestic political development of countries and regions of the world; to focus on reforms in various spheres of public life and the course of socio-political processes in these countries |